Executives Like Yours Deserve....

Added Protection

Everyone knows that accidents happen. But when accidents happen to high-net-worth executives, the risk of a costly lawsuit is far greater. Property damage and personal injury lawsuits can put sizeable assets at stake — homes, valuables, investments, even future earnings. Conner Strong & Buckelew can help safeguard families and hard-earned assets with the protection your executives need.

Excess Liability Insurance coverage takes over after primary coverage limits are exceeded. With policies available up to $50 million, we have the coverage that suits the executive lifestyle. Your corporate executives will feel confident that they're protected against a wide array of incidents ranging from personal injury to property damage to defamation of character. And we protect them worldwide, so they are secure wherever their busy schedule takes them.

Personal Attention

We're focused on the needs of your company's VIPs. Our Personal Risk Consultants work diligently to ensure your executives have the best possible coverage at the lowest possible cost. We even have a range of services that can identify unique circumstances that can put them at risk and offer solutions to avoid them.

Unparalleled Service

We have earned a reputation for delivering exceptional client service. Our seasoned professionals have the knowledge to understand the needs of high-net-worth individuals. We're available to our clients 24/7. Our goal is to provide the best results in the most timely fashion possible. Our specialists work closely with clients through complex circumstances when they are needed the most.

High-End Services

Our Personal Risk Consultants are experts in complex risks and develop tailored insurance programs that align with the unique needs of your executives. From aviation to equine, from estates to yachts, our team of experts can deliver the coverage options to protect these valuable assets. Call us today to have one of our Consultants perform a review of your executive-level needs.
