

IMPORTANT COVID-19 UPDATE

EMPLOYEE EDUCATION VIDEO ON COVID-19

Over the last several days Conner Strong & Buckelew has issued detailed updates for employers and plan sponsors on benefit policy, regulatory and coverage issues. In this communication we have included a short video to share with your employees on dealing with the coronavirus. The video is a simple “what you need to know” about the coronavirus for the typical consumer. While we will continue to focus on coverage, policy and regulatory items for employers and plan sponsors at the “business level”, this video can be an effective way to share key information with employees without their having to read another lengthy memo.

Please click on the video below to play:

If the video does not play, copy and paste this link into your browser: <https://flimp.me/COVID-19>

Conner Strong & Buckelew provides no-cost videos to clients on a range of benefit topics, and this one was specifically produced for your use with the coronavirus. Feel free to share the link and circulate it as you see fit.

Your Conner Strong & Buckelew account teams are here to help with these complex issues. We will continue to share more updates on the coronavirus as appropriate. Please reach out to us if there is further assistance you need. Thank you.

Please visit our COVID-19 Resource Center to find helpful information.